Professor's Corner:

Are you currently studying for the CMA exam or would like to start? I would like to form an on-line/in-person study group to help participants stay focused, get motivated, answer questions about material and any other areas people would like to discuss. Please contact me and let me know what social media would work best for you, LinkedIn or IMA's LinkedUp (accessible from the Member's area of www.imanet.org).

The current exam window is now, September/October, with registration on or before October 15. The next exam window will be January/February, with registration from October 16 – February 15. If you are studying for the current window you are probably getting a little frantic and could use some encouragement. Let's join up and help each other!

From the President:

As president of an organization like ours you get an interesting perspective on the success or failure of the organization. Based on our participation the past couple of years I would say our organization is on healthy footing. We continue to acquire new members and have stabilized in terms of our losses. We have started to focus on our future with more effort and recruiting students. We are in the planning stages for our Regional Student Conference but to make it successful we need sponsors and exhibitors for our planned expo. If you are interested in sponsoring the event please e-mail me at jengel@nd.edu or Brenda Engel at bbengel1@comcast.net. Thank you for everything you all do for the Michiana Chapter.
